

GEN. DAWES SPEAKS OUT ON KUKLUX KLAN

GOVERNOR ORDERS QUICK PROSECUTION OF "MASKED MOB" IF ASSAILANTS ARE NOT KNOWN. ACCUSES KU KLUX

Home Town of Blaine Scene of Attack on Officer, Says Message.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS] Madison—Gov. Blaine today ordered the quick prosecution of a masked mob which assaulted a police officer in the home town of Blaine, Wis., last week.

The governor, in a telegram to the district attorney, declared that if the assailants are not known, then the district attorney should determine the identity of the persons responsible for the attack. The telegram follows:

"On my return to the capital, I am credibly informed that a masked mob of Klansmen at Rosebush, Wis., today assaulted a police officer and that assailants were masked with the Ku Klux Klan. If assailants are known, immediate prosecution should be instituted, and if they are unknown, then the district attorney should determine the identity of the persons responsible for the attack. The telegram follows:

"Law provides double penalty for criminal acts when committed by a person masked. Report immediately."

The telegram refers to a demonstration which took place at Rosebush, Wis., last week, when a masked mob of Klansmen assaulted a police officer and a woman. The governor's message is the first of its kind in the history of the state.

LOCOMOTIVE LEAVES RAILS NEAR YARDS

A switch engine piloted by Frank Dooley and a bunk car were derailed one-half mile north of the Chicago and Northwestern Railway Friday night, bringing in the third trix-outhouse crew. The engine left the rails and buried its nose in the dirt at the bottom of the embankment near the point where the intersection of the tracks was. The cause of the accident, which was said to be a loose joint in the rails, was cleared by evening.

"THERE IS SOMETHING BURNING"

La Follette Seeks High Office at Unprecedented Age; Nearing 3-Score-Ten

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1924, by the Janesville Gazette, Special Correspondence to the Janesville Gazette.

Washington—John W. Davis, age 51, President Coolidge, age 52, Senator La Follette, age 69.

These statistics will figure in the national campaign as an argument all by themselves. Do the American people want a man in the White House who is nearly three times as old as the president, and who is nearly three times as old as the senator?

"On the character and intelligence of the working people of this country," the proclamation declares, "there is no question. They are the backbone of the nation, and it is their duty to elect a man who will lead them to a better future."

The proclamation is a direct challenge to the "old man" who is running for president. It is a challenge to the "old man" who is running for senator. It is a challenge to the "old man" who is running for governor.

An entirely new color chart has been built up around that brown, which is the reigning color for fall. The color is called a brown so dark it might easily be mistaken for black. Penny, a soft, coppery shade, and saddle, the new name for beige.

We find the wool dress fabrics this season are rich and lustrous, due to their closely woven surfaces. Among the new materials are the kashimira and charmonis in which Dreyer's present several very alluring models. This deep copper shade, of which you have heard so much, was employed in fashioning a two-piece suit with wide skirt and braided jacket. The elaborate pattern of braiding was carried out in this same shade. The straight-line frock, interrupted only by a narrow strip of color in the apricot shade, offset with collar and cuffs of white. The sleeves in these new dresses are either very long, so as to wrap over the hands or absolutely negligible. The former were shown preference in a street dress of cocoa champagne, tiny pin tucks marking the neckline and tailored home buttons adding to its severity. For real service, probably nothing can take the place of the flannel dress in which a new stripe for school or business wear. Dreyer's show many styles in these. One in particular seemed just made for some boarding school girl. It was a two-piece frock in grey flannel—the skirt and tunic over-blouse with bright colored wool embroidery pockets. It is a new revelation to see these new revelations in fall wear that arrive daily at Dreyer's.

For no other reason that to glean a bit of enlightening information about heels and pumps, which I might, in turn, pass on to you, I visited a local shoe store, Reiberg's, to be exact, in company with a girl friend. No sooner had we entered the store than we were met by a perfectly stunning pair of oxfords. Tony Tan, they called them, and they were just as dainty as the name implies. A bit cut out on the sides and front but serviceable for all kinds of wear, with the Cuban heel, cried up by everyone of fashion. One could not resist choosing a pair of them to wear. In a fall suit, much less the Tony Tan hosiery to match.

Your footstep may well be traced by the glossy smartness of patent leather oxfords, both comfortable and slipper, both quality for a prominent fashion place as long as the black and white ensemble remains the vogue. So spoke the dapper salesman. "It is smartest to wear creamy, nude hose, or a soft, silvery gray with this pump, which has all the qualities of correct style and comfort in the two narrow straps, solidly beaded in steel, concealing the rubbers which hold the pump snugly to the instep. A girl who wears such shoes definitely makes the effect." As would be expected, so smart and yet so serviceable a shoe as the Southern toe oxford is meeting with unprecedented popularity. The quality of its square toe and wide tongue making it unusually attractive for sport wear. The next time you are down town, make it a point to drop into Reiberg's and see the new models as they arrive.

Lines will continue to go uninterrupted in their straight and narrow ways.

Mr. Reiberg, "There's that phone again. Wonder who could be calling at this hour of the night. 'Hello,' sleepily, 'sorry to call you so late, but we just had some friends drive in for the week-end and thought we might pull a little party tomorrow at the lake, providing, of course, we don't have more than two or three cloudbursts between now and then. What do you say?' asked Jane, who could always be depended upon to get things up on the spur of the moment. 'Sounds fine,' says Reiberg, 'but I've got to get out of here if you are counting on me for any of the cats. The stores are all closed now and I haven't a thing in the house to take along.' 'Nothing to it,' answered the ever resourceful Jane. 'I'll simply call Reiberg's the first thing in the morning, tell them to put up a bunch for the party, and then I'll do you. I think you would like some fruit salad, olive sandwiches, tomato and cake—no, I suppose it would be better to include a fresh peach plate. The boys, though, wouldn't it? Any way, don't you worry about these cats because you can always depend upon Reiberg's putting in some good things. Good night, good night in the morning then, goodbye.' MOLLY.

URGES TRAINING FOR STATE OFFICE

First Scores Appointments Based Solely on Political Expediency.

Madison—Training, experience and education should be the only basis for selection of state department heads, A. E. Hirst, republican candidate for governor, declared in an address here today. Mr. Hirst pledged himself to such a policy if elected governor.

Mr. Hirst also advocated the reduction of the state payroll and other expenses where possible. He said that the state should be able to pay its bills and still have a surplus. He said that the state should be able to pay its bills and still have a surplus. He said that the state should be able to pay its bills and still have a surplus.

"In the selection of departmental heads, but one thing should be taken into consideration, training, experience, education for position; the best men and women should be selected. Instead of selecting department heads because of political considerations, they should be selected because they can deliver the goods.

"If an insurance commissioner is appointed, he should have a knowledge of the insurance business, coupled with high character. It is a betrayal of the people to appoint a man who is wholly ignorant of the knowledge and qualifications which are requisite."

PORTER HOME ECONOMICS

PORTER HOME ECONOMICS CLUB. Porter Junior Home Economics club, led by Mrs. Lloyd Porter, carried off $105 worth of prizes on sewing and canning exhibited at the Rock County fair. Each member made a good record on individual entries, while the club exhibits of sewing and canning were blue ribbon winners. Marathon county, through the leadership of 2 paid women agents, has 30 of these girls' clubs. Rock county, without such leadership, has two clubs. More than 100 girls were selected by the Junior club committee for home economics work this year, and many girls were sufficiently interested to carry on the work without leadership and enter exhibits at the fair. The board of directors of the Rock County Farm Bureau were so impressed with the willingness and desire of Rock county girls to learn how to be good home-makers, that they voted to contribute $500 toward the salary of a woman worker; $300 is available from state and federal sources; $200 is needed. A meeting of representative women from each township in the county will be held soon to decide on a plan of action to secure the other $200.

It is but quite two years since the Gazette became the vehicle for the Good Times and Community comment work. It has grown to great proportions. It has become a clearing house for everything in the community.

SLEMP THANKS LOCAL MAN FOR COOLIDGE PLEDGE

A letter of appreciation has been received by J. T. Waggoner, 124 Corn Exchange, from the White House. Mr. Waggoner wrote Calvin Coolidge with his sentiments toward the president's address and telling him Wisconsin's delegation at the republican convention at Cleveland was not a representation of Wisconsin's citizens. Mr. Waggoner's letter stated that as one of the citizens of Wisconsin he would cast his vote for Calvin Coolidge and there would be thousands more to do likewise.

Following is the letter received by Mr. Waggoner from the president's secretary, C. B. Slemmons.

"THE WHITE HOUSE, Washington, D. C., August 19, 1924.

"Dear Mr. Waggoner: I am very glad to acknowledge your letter of August 15th, and to assure you of my grateful appreciation of your fine sentiments toward the president. It certainly is encouraging and pleasing to have such a splendid letter, and he hopes you will write to him frequently. As you know, it is an excellent letter, but will return to Washington the latter part of this month.

"With best wishes to you, I remain, very truly yours, C. B. Slemmons, Secretary to the President.

VOCATIONAL HEADS CHOOSE LA CROSSE

Madison—La Crosse has been selected as the convention site of the annual conference of city vocational directors, according to officials here today. The selection was made particularly because of the new vocational building which has just been completed at La Crosse. An extensive inspection of the building will be made by the city directors. A program of state and out of state speakers is now being prepared. The conference will be held in October.

Do not miss a single copy of the Gazette while on your vacation. Call 2500, say the word and the Gazette will be sent to any address every day.

POLITICAL SCIENCE CONFERENCE, SEPT. 8

Madison—The second annual convention of the National Conference on Science of Politics will be held at the University of Chicago, Sept. 8 to 12, under arrangements completed by Prof. A. B. Hall, University of Wisconsin political science department. Prof. Hall is president of the conference.

Political and civic problems will be discussed at the Chicago meeting by national authorities. Prof. Hall said. Results of surveys made by experts since the initial session in Madison last September, will be presented.

The conference was organized to carry on research and investigation of activities regarding psychology and political science, problems and methods in civil service, research in public finance, legislation, political statistics, public law, nonpartisan methods, national organization and municipal information.

SEVERAL CHICAGO FIREMEN VISITORS

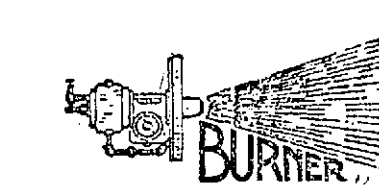

Several members of the Chicago fire department have been visitors at the local centralized station during the past two weeks and have been the object of considerable quizzing on the part of the Janesville firemen, seeking to learn all they can about new schemes for fighting fires and handling equipment.

Ray Rotary Fuel Oil Burner

Facts About the Ray Burner:

1. The Ray Burner has been manufactured with success since 1915. As a result many improvements and refinements in design have been made which are exclusive to the Ray Burner.
2. It is full automatic and requires practically no attention.
3. It uses gas for ignition and electricity to control burner through a thermostat placed in any part of the house and to operate a fractional horse-power motor to complete the combustion.
4. The Ray Burner is capable of burning 24-gravity oil (crude oil) or lighter oils. We recommend the use of low-grade fuels as they are invariably cheaper. With Ray equipment you can take advantage of the fuel market at all times, as they will burn oils ranging from 40-gravity kerosene or 24-gravity fuel oils.

Jefferson County W.C.T.U. Convenes in Ft. Atkinson

Fort Atkinson—The Jefferson County W. C. T. U. convention was held at the Methodist church Friday, Aug. 22. About 50 delegates were present from Lake Mills, Watertown, Jefferson and other towns.

The morning session was occupied with reports and routine work of the convention. The afternoon session opened with reports and routine work of the convention. The afternoon session opened with an address of welcome by Mrs. C. E. Masters. The response was given by Miss Lenore Rieckman, Jefferson. Mrs. Rose C. Lewis, Juneau, state corresponding secretary of the W. C. T. U., gave an address. About 40 new unions have been instituted in the state this year.

The following officers were elected: President, Miss Laura Jackson, Lake Mills; vice president, Mrs. W. T. Fay, Jefferson; recording secretary, Miss Abbie Norton, Watertown; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Eva Hanson, Lake Mills; treasurer, Mrs. Alva Jaquith, Palmyra.

In the evening, Miss Anna E. Warren, Stoughton, state president of the W. C. T. U., gave an address. Music was furnished by local talent. Dinner and supper were served in the church dining room by the ladies of Fort Atkinson Union.

NEWS AND COMMENT FOR SOUTHERN WISCONSIN FARMERS

LACK OF TIMBER CAUSING FLOODS

Farmers Interested in Forestry from Two Important Standpoints.

By LEWIS C. FRENCH

Forestry seems a far-fetched subject for the American farmer to be interested in, but as the farmer at one and the same time is the greatest owner of timber and the largest user of it, he is vitally concerned.

First, the present timber price is affecting every farmer, for the construction cost of farm buildings, the most entirely of wood, have mounted to be nearly prohibitive. With more than two-thirds of the American timber supply exhausted, and that remaining located in distant states, requiring high freight charges, the farmer realizes he is interested in the future supply of wood.

Since Wisconsin was a lumbering state, except for small stretches of prairie land, Wisconsin in the early days was wood covered.

Having so much timber, the "old timers" failed to appreciate it and its value. They hewed, cut and sawed, cleared off farms with burning timber, leaving the pine and spruce lands little but out-of-the-way waste land in return.

Now Wisconsin is paying the penalty, not only in the price of timber products, but also in a changed water-fall condition. As the timber of the corn belt states and northern sections was cut off, the result was increased and damage by soil erosion, drainage of swamps, natural reservoirs and cutting of woods, has taken away the only natural barrier to floods, thus to take care of surplus rain. Wherever there is land, robbed of its timber, there you find it derelict from floods and floods. Man has destroyed as good a regulator of water-flow as nature.

There has been an over-development of cut-over lands for agricultural purposes. The United States is in no immediate need of additional farms. There are far too many agricultural products produced now to sell to advantage.

In the cut-over district of Minnesota, one fall, it was observed that the only crop of the nation's potatoes were rotting in the ground, for the price was 25 cents a bushel. These "shockers" and poor farmers had been sold cut-over land, swamp land, for farms and they were sold from 10 to 30 years grubbing off a few acres, they were still trying to find a buyer for their land. They would have been better off with more money growing pine than with potatoes.

Wisconsin has its forestry problem and in forestry there are abundant opportunities for the farmer to make a good thing out of a bad thing. Wisconsin farmers need timber.

Many sections of the former timber belt develop into good agricultural districts and others will never make good farm land and were intended by nature only for timber.

Timber is now at a premium, not only for its commercial value, but in addition, for its game and scenic attractions. The farmer who has a program of development of his timber resources and in general the farmer are vitally concerned with the sale of their timber. The farmer who has reached a price where it will pay the farmer to cultivate and care for the farm wood lot.

It's a policy of "Mr. Farmer, Spare That Tree."

DAIRY SHOW WILL INTEREST FARMER

Grade Cow Demonstrations and Judging Lectures Make Show Worth While.

Making the National Dairy Show to be held in Milwaukee during September 27 interesting to the livestock breeder, aside from the prize awards on blooded stock, will be the aim of the exposition committee. It must be admitted that the average farmer has only passing interest in the display of highly bred, high priced purebred stock, but the top honors at such an exposition.

In addition to the blue-blooded National dairy show this year will put on practical exhibits that affect the farmer with his head of grades.

Methods in doubling the production of the cow through improved methods in feeding and breeding and "caring" the same animal, for example, in dairying with half the labor demonstrated. Farmers will learn how at the National and absorbing the practical lessons of such an exposition.

In addition to the latest in machinery for the industry, dairy cattle demonstrations to distinguish the profitable from the less profitable cow, and daily judging contests for farmers, will be on the program.

Entries in the dairy department close Sept. 6. The National Dairy Show at the National Dairy show is the most distinctive award that can be given any animal and there will be a live display of the year for the best cow. A total of $25,000 in premiums, in addition to cups, medals and trophies valued at another $10,000 will be awarded annually.

A large premium list is offered for the best cow, the Milwaukee show being the first time the National has made an effort to cultivate the showing of the grades.

It is hoped to have more than 1,000 people from Rock county attend the National on the day designated as "Rock County Day." The Rock county will be represented by 50 head of registered cattle, a booth, industrial exhibits and a county booster committee is working to let those attending the National know that "Rock County is First."

"MOVIES" SHOWN ON BRITISH MILK COWS

Milking Shorthorn breeders of the county were more than ever interested in the merit of the breed on seeing novel motion pictures taken in England and Ireland by Roy Cook, Independence, Inc., national secretary of the American Milking Shorthorn society. The films were shown Wednesday night in the cattle pavilion.

Mr. Cook recently returned from a trip to England and showed the movie to the Rock county stock show, and herds of the British Isles. In England the greatest interest in the show is the milking trials, which the Shorthorns have won for many years. The cows with good beef conformation and with udders that would rival the best of dairy breeds. The cattle produced from 16,000 to 18,000 pounds of milk. The sales averaged around the $600 mark, according to Mr. Cook.

DECIDED INCREASE IN FEEDING SHEEP

Farmers Warned Not to Stock Up Too Much—More Lambs Raised.

The number of sheep and lambs that will probably be shipped from the western sheep states for Aug. 1 on the end of the year is estimated by the United States department of agriculture at around 775,000 head more than the number marketed from these states during the similar period last year. The estimated number this year is 715,000, compared to 638,000 marketed last year. This estimate is based upon the situation in the different states as reported about last year. The estimated number for Aug. 1. State officials have estimated that that date may either increase or decrease this number.

The states included in this estimate are South Dakota, Texas, the Rocky mountain states and all states west of these. The figures cover shipments to public stock yards, markets and also the direct shipment to slaughter establishments on the Pacific coast and to feed lots not going through markets. The increased shipments are due largely to two factors: The large lamb crop raised in many of these states this year compared to last, and the range and feed situation in the part of the region lying west of the continent.

More Lambs Raised

The lamb crop this year was larger than last, both because of the larger percentage of ewes bred and also because of the increased number of breeding ewes. In a number of these states the number of lambs is indicated as over 10 per cent larger than last year.

The feed situation west of the continent divide is a serious one. The drought in much of this area has continued since early in the year, and the growth of grass and browse on the winter range has been deficient. The sheep and lambs are considerably smaller than last year and the price of feed is high. Grain prices also will probably be high. In some areas the supply of feed will have to be brought in from the outside. In the face of this situation, it is the expressed intention of sheep growers in this area to market very closely this year and to cut their marketing herd carefully. The local demand from ranchers for old ewes that existed last fall will be largely lacking and old ewes will have to go to public markets for sale, resulting in more feeding lambs going to eastern markets.

Feed is Problematic

In the areas east of the continental divide, the winter feed situation is much more favorable and the increased marketings from these states will probably be in proportion to the increased lambs raised. In these states, however, the cost of hay and grain promises to be much higher than last year, which will tend to induce a larger movement of lambs to the east. In many of these states there is indicated a considerable local demand for lambs on the part of small ranches and feed lots, but the increased cost of feed will probably result in a smaller movement of lambs to the east.

Small Corn Crop

A small corn crop, with much soft corn and high corn prices, will probably result in a much lessened demand for feeding lambs than last year in the corn belt. Higher prices for lambs may also curtail the demand in the western states for feeding districts. While the corn crop may be short, there is a big fall pasture in the corn belt and market reports indicate a big corn belt inquiry for feeding sheep. The shortage of corn will result in a much heavier inquiry for marketing and holding on the range of more lambs than would normally be the case.

GRAIN STILL WENT

"Grain yields run fairly high but the grain is all wet," reports Dennis Glenn, Milton.

The month of the threshing machine is heard in part of the country that is, when weather permits. Farmers are predicting that when the grain starts moving to market the price will slump.

STATE DAIRY REPORT

J. G. Emery, state dairy and food commissioner, this week submitted the annual report of his department, containing 324 typewritten pages. The report, containing summaries of activities of the dairy division and weights and measures division, is said to be the longest ever submitted by a state department.

BANG, FEW MORE RECORDS BROKEN BY DAIRY COWS

August has seen many new production records established in the dairy world.

A new world's champion grade dairy cow, New Hope Lady, has been developed by Wisconsin farmer, Matt Demuszek, of Liberty, Wis. While a breeder of registered cattle, Demuszek knows the high grade is not to be ignored.

This grade cow recently completed a record of 17,557 pounds of milk and 847.74 pounds of butterfat as a mature cow, which is said to be more than any other grade dairy cow has ever produced.

John Ingold, Green county Dairymen's association, put a great record on a 4-year-old Swiss cow, with 16,500 pounds of fat in 265 days, making her the world's champion of the breed in that class.

Murphy Farms, Oak Harbor, put a record of 15,000 pounds of milk and 824.25 pounds of fat, the equal of 750.3 pounds of butter, on the 2-year-old B. Deauty, purchased from the Ingold herd. The record county farm bid on this great heifer, but was topped by the Green Bay millionaire.

Pinna's Jersey Dairies

Pinna's Jersey Dairies, the pure-bred Jersey that is supposed to hold the world's record for butter production, all breeds, died at the Greyhound farm, Pennsylvania, on Aug. 6, at the age of 24 years and 10 months. This marks the close of one of the most notable careers in live stock history, for during her lifetime she produced 1,000,000 pounds of milk and 200,000 pounds of butter, and a mother of 20 heifer calves and one bull calf. Unfortunately she was not bred until she was in her nineteenth year, but even at that age she produced, with only 40,000 pounds of butterfat, Mr. Sharples, her owner.

GRIMM ALFALFA TRACES TO 1857

German Immigrant, Wendell Grimm, Plants Everlasting Clover.

Time and inoculation have put alfalfa—the queen of the legumes—over the top in Wisconsin. The Rock county, where Wendell Grimm and Walworth, has increased the acreage of alfalfa until the yield of the crop as the most profitable forage crop in the dairy and livestock farm is no longer questioned. Alfalfa will grow to an advantage in this section with the possibility of a low ground where standing water in the winter time brings about extreme danger of winter-killing.

Every farmer knows of Grimm alfalfa, a most varied variety of this wonder plant. The Grimm traces to Wendell Grimm, a native of Germany and pioneer settler in Wisconsin, reported to be a Kinsman of Judge George Grimm, Jefferson.

When alfalfa was first brought to the United States, it was believed the legume would not flourish in the northern states. The common alfalfa flourished in California and not where the winters were not so severe.

During the year 1857—only two years after the common variety of the plant was introduced into California—according to the "Country Gentleman," that Grimm alfalfa, a native of Germany and pioneer settler in Wisconsin, reported to be a Kinsman of Judge George Grimm, Jefferson.

At first the crop, not acclimated, and was not thrifty. Each year brought about an improvement in the crop, and the nature adjusted the plant to the winter weather conditions of the Gopher state and it was not long before the fame of the crop spread to all northern agricultural states. Several winters seen killed out the common alfalfa, but the Grimm variety withstood the cold and thrived.

Today the Grimm variety of alfalfa is the best known in Wisconsin for the reason it has been kept pure, is now fully pedigreed and sold under cooperative methods by the best producers.

Quite a record for a sack of seed brought over to the United States by a thirty German immigrant.

Recently a sack of Grimm alfalfa, a monument to Wendell Grimm, which was unveiled by Clara Adelmann, great-granddaughter of the German settler.

PICTURES OF PEOPLE AND EVENTS TELL STORY OF WEEK

President Well Supplied With Hay Rakes

President Calvin Coolidge now has the means of raking all of the hay he desires while he is on his vacation at his father's farm in New Hampshire. When Representative Allen T. Treadway (left), of Massachusetts went to call on Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge with Mrs. Treadway (right), he took with him two rakes made for the president by Marshall W. Stedman of Tyringham, Mass., whose family for four generations have made rakes by hand.

Spain's King Willing to Relinquish Crown

The arrangement of Dictator Primo de Rivera's retirement and the change to constitutional government may mean the abdication of King Alfonso of Spain, with the resignation of all his ministers, it is believed in Europe. Alfonso is known to be willing to relinquish the crown "whenever his people no longer need him." Here are two views of the king, and a photo of his queen, Victoria, with their children. The crown prince is at his mother's left.

One Woman After Another Story of Kid McCoy's Life

One woman after another. That is the story of the life of Norman Selby, famous as "Kid McCoy," pugilist, movie actor and wholesale husband, who is being held in Los Angeles on the charge of murdering Mrs. Albert E. Mors (left, above), his prospective tenth wife. Here are Jacqueline McDowell of Baltimore (right, above), chosen by McCoy for No. 9; Mrs. George Wheelock Selby (left, below), the "Kid's" second wife, whom he married and was divorced from three times; and (right, below), Mrs. Edna F. Hein, the sixth of his wives, whom he wedded in 1911. They were divorced the same year. McCoy, denying the murder, says Mrs. Mors was the only woman he ever loved.

Pershing Prepares to Surrender His Command to John L. Hines

General John J. Pershing, commander of the A. E. F. in the world war (left), is preparing to surrender his post as chief of staff of the United States army to Maj. Gen. John L. Hines (right), and retire from active duty, having reached the army age limit, 64. Pershing is the third man in the history of the United States to retire from the army with the rank of full general, the others being Grant and Sherman.

Bobbed Hair More Vital to Old Than Young Women, Says Doctor

Romance May Forge Link in Families Of Britain's Chief Political Enemies

Marriage may unite the families of two of the most conspicuous political enemies in England, that of Ramsay MacDonald (right below), Labor premier, with that of Stanley Baldwin (left, below). Conservative leader, whom he succeeded as prime minister. Oliver Baldwin (left, above), son of the former premier, is reported to have an "understanding" with Miss Isabel MacDonald, present mistress of 10 Downing Street, official home of her widowed father.

The Executive Office of the Nation

This bare-appearing room, lighted by oil lamps, in a small grocery building, became the executive office of the nation when Calvin Coolidge arrived in Plymouth, N. H., for a vacation on the farm of his father, John C. Coolidge. The president's secretary, C. Bascom Stemp, is shown at the presidential work table.

Detective Solves Murder Mystery Through Watch Number Clew

This photo of Mrs. Theresa Mors, whom "Kid" McCoy, her "protector," is accused of slaying at her home in Los Angeles, is one made a short time before her death. She was the divorced wife of Albert Mors, millionaire New Yorker, and was to have been, reports have it, McCoy's tenth wife.

There were no clues to begin with, and six months brought only a watch number to work with, but Detective John Long of the Memphis, Tenn., police department, solved one of the most confounding murder mysteries in the police annals of the south, the murder of Mrs. Ruth Tucker and Duncan A. Waller on a lonely road near Memphis. Long traced the crime to Charles Barr, doctor, and caused Barr to confess.

TAMPA SAYS SHE IS SURE WINNER

In Tampa, Fla., it is contended that the annual Atlantic City beauty contest is as good as over, now that Miss Virginia McRae has been chosen as "Miss Tampa."

"Women for Congress" Slogan of "National Party"

A demand for equal rights for women in the election of congressmen and senators is being spoken through the nation by delegates who attended a conference of National party, held in Westport, N. Y., in furtherance of its "Women for Congress" movement. This view of the open air gathering shows Mrs. Stephen H. P. Fell, New York, finance chairman, acknowledging request of the convention that she run for congress with its endorsement.

YOUR AUTOMOBILE

HOW TO CARE FOR IT

BY E. H. SCOTT

How to Load Up Equipment so that Weight is Evenly Distributed

If you are going to enjoy your tour, you must pack your equipment in such a way that there is sufficient room for everyone to ride comfortably. You will very quickly find out that there is not very much pleasure touring if you are squeezed in between packages of various kinds and have no room to stretch your legs.

When you are ready to load up, it is a good idea to carry out everything you are going to take with you and lay it all in a line beside the car. You can then see just what you have to pack and the amount of space everything is going to take.

As a general rule, the heavy equipment should be placed at the bottom, but the things that are needed first, such as tent, stove, etc., should be loaded up so that they can be taken off first. It is for this reason that these articles are best packed on the running board. As I have previously mentioned, tools and spares should be carried where they can be got at quickly when they are required and generally the best place for them is under the front seat.

A very important thing to keep in mind is that weight must be equally distributed. If you have too much weight on one side you are only looking for trouble. The running boards should not be loaded up with heavy articles all on one side. Pack the bulky but light articles on the left side and the more compact articles on the right side. This will allow you to get in and out of the car easily.

Light steel luggage racks are a great help in holding equipment on the running board. It is difficult to hope or strap equipment securely enough to prevent it falling off. The luggage rack provides a wall that holds everything in place and enables you to pack or remove equipment much quicker and easier than you can when it has to be strapped or roped on.

The principal thing to remember is that all luggage carried on the running boards must be securely fastened or it will work loose and drop off. Don't forget to cover up equipment carried on the running boards with oil cloth or canvas so that it is dust and rain proof.

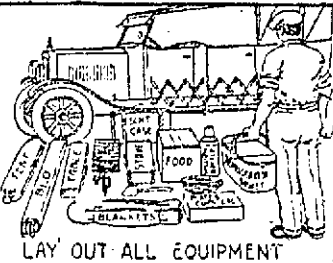

While on the subject of protection from rain, if you are in an open car, don't forget to take out the side curtains and see that they are complete and in good condition. The best place to carry them is in a special pocket inside the top but in any case, stow them where you can get at them quickly when you need them.

If there are three or four in the party, it is a very good idea to arrange among yourselves for each one to have a certain duty. For instance, the driver should have nothing to do but drive and keep the car in good condition, watching lubrication and greasing and tightening up when necessary. Another can specialize on the erection of the tent, beds, unpacking, etc. The cooking and food supply can be handled by a third member while the fourth can carry water, burn old papers, keep the camp clean, etc. If each one attends to his or her job, you will find it will add greatly to the comfort and pleasure of the trip.

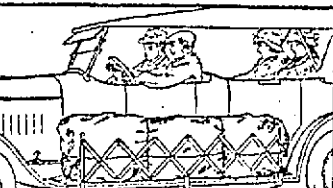

A trip can very easily be spoiled if you have trouble with the car. If all that the driver is expected to do is look after it, then he has time to give it proper attention. Every morning before you start unscrew the radiator cap and make SURE that there is enough water in the radiator. Lift up the hood and see that there is enough oil in the crankcase. Every day during the touring season numbers of tours come to a sudden stop because the driver THOUGHT there was enough water and oil, but he guessed wrong. Don't take any chances, it only takes a few seconds to make CERTAIN that the radiator has enough water and the crankcase enough oil.

Test each tire with a tire gauge, do not rely on judging their condition with the top of your boot. I know some drivers will smile at this and say that it is not necessary. After you have spent half an hour or so on a hot dusty road changing a tire that has gone flat you will change your mind. Another thing, fill up the gasoline tank at least once a day, don't let it get nearly empty before you think of filling up, or you may find yourself stranded some distance from a filling station.

If you are making long runs and are not using the headlights, it is a good idea to switch them on for an hour each day. This will prevent the battery heating up. Be sure also to examine the level of the water in the battery every four or five days. It should be about 1/2 inch above the plates. If the water gets below the level of the plates the battery heats up and the plates warp with the result you find the car slowing up and stopping and you are stranded until you can get another battery. Watch the water and use the lights for an hour or so and you will be playing safe.

"How Much Will Balloon Tires Cost Me?"

We get that query every day.

The answer is surprising—the cost of Goodyear Balloon Tires is so low.

If you are now using 4 or 4 1/2-inch tires, for example, Goodyear Balloons for your present wheels will cost you only $4.00 more. If yours are 5-inch tires, the cost is $5.00 more than ordinary size tires.

You see, for $15 to $20, you can have everything that Goodyear Balloons give you—easy riding, longer car life, fewer repair bills, and the lasting tire life of Goodyear Supertwist cord construction.

The New Gabriel Balloon-Type Snubbers

The new Gabriel Balloon-Type Snubber, for use with balloon and low-pressure tires, is, we believe, the greatest advancement in twenty years toward greater motoring comfort, riding ease, and safety.

The increased spring action and the greater upthrow which result when balloon or low-pressure tires encounter unusually large road bumps, are now for the first time, scientifically and thoroughly controlled.

At the same time the new balloon-type Gabriel Snubber is so constructed that it permits absolutely free play of both spring and tire for their own absorption of small irregularities on apparently smooth roads.

The Refined Oldsmobile Six

New Beauty

Outside But

Same Good

Old Chassis

Styles change! But the laws of mechanics are fixed. Last year—Oldsmobile brought out the best light Six that all its vast manufacturing facilities, plus the resources of General Motors, could produce. Designed right, at the outset—time tested and time proved—Oldsmobile now finds that splendid chassis too good to change! Improved? Yes! But in all essentials, the Refined Oldsmobile Six is the same good car that 40,000 owners drive and praise. "There is a new style of radiator and hood! More graceful lines! Cowl lights! Beautiful, enduring Duco satin finish! Instruments are grouped on a single panel—and there are many other up-to-date refinements. One of your neighbors is driving an Oldsmobile Six! Talk with him—then come in and admire the beautiful lines of this long-lived car!"
